Project Highlight
Our partners from SIREN and UCSF presented at the CIE meeting and informed the group about the work that they are doing with the Advancing Real-Time Coordination and Collaboration (ARCC) research project. 2-1-1 San Diego and other local CIE partners including: La Maestra Community Health Center, San Ysidro Health, Be There San Diego, Multicultural Foundation, Skinny Gene Project, and YMCA are collaborators of the project. This project will feature activities including: Catalyzing and conducting high quality research, Collecting & disseminating research findings, and Providing evaluation, research, & analytics in consultation services. The goal of this project is to expand the CIE’s data analytics and visualization functionalities to improve use of social and health data as part of chronic disease primary care, population health management, and community health improvement interventions.

Partner Community Feedback
The CIE 2-1-1 San Diego team solicited feedback on a proposed change to the Partner Community portal when processing direct referrals. The proposed change directly affects how an expired referral is tracked in the partner community. Partners provided feedback and chose to label an expired referral outcome as “referral timed-out.”

A partner from North County Health Services expressed that it would be great to receive an alert that notifies the referral sender when an outcome is marked as “Did Not Receive Services” that way they can follow-up with the client to provide additional support and services.
