WELCOME & INTRODUCTIONS
And then a scholar said, "Speak of Talking." And he answered, saying:

You talk when you cease to be at peace with your thoughts; And when you can no longer dwell in the solitude of your heart you live in your lips, and sound is a diversion and a pastime.

And in much of your talking, thinking is half murdered. For thought is a bird of space, that in a cage of words many indeed unfold its wings but cannot fly.

There are those among you who seek the talkative through fear of being alone. The silence of aloneness reveals to their eyes their naked selves and they would escape.

And there are those who talk, and without knowledge or forethought reveal a truth which they themselves do not understand.

And there are those who have the truth within them, but they tell it not in words.

In the bosom of such as these the spirit dwells in rhythmic silence.

When you meet your friend on the roadside or in the market place, let the spirit in you move your lips and direct your tongue.

Let the voice within your voice speak to the ear of his ear;

For his soul will keep the truth of your heart as the taste of the wine is remembered

When the color is forgotten and the vessel is no more.

![Bar chart showing age group demographics]

Additional demographics of clients in need of food assistance during COVID-19, which are similar to demographics prior to COVID-19, include:

- 37% have children in the household

Comparing the Demand for Food Bank to Available Services

The following section analyzes potential imbalances between client need and available resources by calculating the ratio of need to the number of resources in a zip code (i.e. how many needs can be met by one food bank).

Interpreting the Map
• Areas shaded in red indicate that there are no food banks in that zip code
  • Darker shaded red areas indicate a greater demand but there are no food banks in that zip code
• Areas shaded in blue indicate that there is at least one food bank in that zip code
  • Darker shaded blue areas indicate a greater demand per food bank in that zip code

Limitations
• The share of resources represents the number of services offered in each service category group and does not necessarily represent the number of clients that can be served by a given service. For example, one service may serve 1,000 clients and another service could serve 100 clients. This analysis will treat both services the same.
• Maps are provided to visualize data on resources and needs. The maps provide a high-level overview of which neighborhoods have the highest level of need and where resources are located, but will not show service area.
• Additionally, data will be shown to illustrate which neighborhoods have high levels of need and low levels of resources. This data is limited to geographic boundaries such as zip codes and neighborhoods. Since clients can cross these boundaries for services, this data should also be used as a guide for where gaps in resources may exist.
Central | 23% of need : 20% of resources

Location of Resources with Number of Referrals

- Weekday referral options are more commonly provided than weekend options (27% of referrals provided to weekend resources)

Ratio of Needs per Service by Zip Code

- Greatest disparity in need to service ratio in North Park (92104) and Paradise Hills (92139)
- In North Park, there are 93 needs per resource and 118 needs per resource in Paradise Hills
- The demand in North Park for food pantries is nearly double the typical demand from 2018
South | 19% of needs : 13% of resources

- Weekday referral options are more commonly provided than weekend options (23% of referrals provided to weekend resources)

- Imperial Beach (92132) and Otay Mesa (92154) have nearly double the amount of needs per resource than other communities
- Chula Vista (91915, 91914), Coronado (92118), and Bonita (92102) have no resources to meet the need
East | 17% of need : 22% of resources

Location of Resources with Number of Referrals

- Weekday referral options are more commonly provided than weekend options, with the highest share of weekend referrals in this HHSA region compared to other regions (34% of referrals provided to weekend resources)

Ratio of Needs per Service by Zip Code

- El Cajon (92021) has more than double the needs per resource compared to other zip codes in the East region, though resources are located in areas of highest demand
North Central | 10% of need : 12% of resources

• Weekday referral options are more commonly provided than weekend options (20% of referrals provided to weekend resources)

• Four areas have no resources to meet needs: Mission Valley (92108), Pacific Beach (92109), Carmel Valley (92130), and University City (92122)

• The demand for food pantries doubled in University City and Mission Valley and tripled for Carmel Valley compared to 2018
North Inland | 8% of needs : 18% of resources

• Weekday referral options are more commonly provided than weekend options (25% of referrals provided to weekend resources)

• North Inland has the most resources per need
• Parts of Escondido (92025, 92027) have triple the needs per resource, and Rancho Bernardo (92127, 92128) has 7 times the needs per resource in this region
• The demand for food pantries in Rancho Bernardo has doubled since 2018
North Coastal | 7% of needs : 12% of resources

Location of Resources with Number of Referrals

- Weekday referral options are more commonly provided than weekend options (27% of referrals provided to weekend resources)

Ratio of Needs per Service by Zip Code

- Carlsbad (92011) has 4 times the number of needs per resource compared to all other areas in this region
- Oceanside (92054) and Vista (92084) have almost double the needs per resource
- The demand for food pantries in 92011 is 5 times the typical demand from 2018
Eviction Moratorium

1. What is an “eviction moratorium”?

   A “moratorium” is the temporary prohibition of an activity. The City of San Diego has passed an eviction moratorium ordinance, which prevents a landlord from evicting an eligible tenant while the eviction moratorium is in effect. The requirements for qualifying as an eligible tenant are discussed below.

Cloud infrastructure

- Like owning vs renting a home
- Serverless – becoming a tenant of online services rather than owning your own hardware & software
- Pay for what you need one month at a time
- Relatively simple security & configuration. More care needed as you grow.

• Microsoft Office 365:
  • Best for users of Microsoft Outlook and Desktop apps

  • OneDrive/SharePoint Teams file sharing is less mature

• Google Apps:
  • Gmail is best for mobile device, tablet, web, and Mac Users.
  • Comes with collaboration-oriented Docs, spreadsheet, etc.
  Google Drive is “best in breed” for online file sharing.
Online calendars

  • Integrates with Microsoft Outlook
  • Included with Outlook Web Access

• Google Calendar
  • Web-Based
  • Integrates easily with iPhone
  • Integrates easily with Google Meet for phone or video conferencing
Cloud Document Storage

Microsoft OneDrive or Google Drive
- Integrated with the apps you chose earlier
- Cost generally included in your apps selection earlier

Dropbox
- Common and easy to use, but watch out for security issues
- Pricing begins at $10/user/month

Box.net & Egnyte
- More security-oriented
- Pricing begins at $7/user/month
Phones

Vonage
- Largest provider
- Reliable
- Call-center workflows

RingCentral
- All-in-one platform for (minimal) conferencing
- Pricing begins at $20/line/month

8x8
- Up-and-coming service
- Pricing begins at $12/line/month

Cell Phones
- Your landline provider can likely forward calls to staff cell phones
- Consider whether you would need to reimburse employees
Conferencing and webinars

- VOIP providers do not have compelling meeting/conferencing solutions compared to dedicated providers
- In our experience, this is particularly important for client interactions

Procurement tips

• Salespeople are your friends. Be clear about your decision-making process and what is important to you.
• Always, always, always ask for non-profit pricing

We are a price-sensitive organization

I'm looking for something that can do X, Y and Z.

I'm hoping to decide within three weeks.

I can get approval for anything under $3,500 easily. Above that, it's a longer process.

Right now, we're comparing products A, B and C. Your product is our favorite because of its user interface. Transparently, we can't afford $1,000,000. Do you have nonprofit pricing available?

From our view, the biggest weakness is that X doesn't come bundled. Can you help with that?

Urgency

Urgency & humanity in the why

• With so many jobs impacted, the tenants we serve need legal aid now more than ever.

• Working families everywhere are making difficult choices about which bills to pay. In the past three weeks, our credit counseling hotline has received [##] more calls than usual.

• It’s impossible to know all the ways the public health emergency will impact our small businesses in the end – but we do know that one of the few ways to reduce that impact is by assisting them with paycheck protection loan applications.”
Since [first year funded], [Funder]’s partnership with [Agency] has helped [number] San Diegans get on track to financial independence. Our work has been possible only because of your program investments. We are phenomenally grateful.

Now, we need your help with the operational investments it will take to begin remote program services. Our credit counselors need laptops and headsets to start taking calls remotely.
Urgency & humanity in the how

Since 2015, [Agency] has helped [number] San Diegans find living-wage work. We are incredibly proud of this work—and grateful for the philanthropic partners who have made this possible. We owe a special thank you to [peer funder], whose [$] investment in programs empowered us to provide [services, quantified].

Now, we need your help with the operational investments it will take to begin remote program services. Our credit counselors need laptops and headsets to start taking calls remotely.
Urgency & humanity in the what

- We need $[#] to fund internet access for these job seekers as soon as possible—or their paychecks may be at risk. For every $[#] [Funder] contributes, one more job seeker can sustain remote employment.

- If we can act quickly, we can procure laptops for our team of 10 agents at a total cost of $[#]. Of course, we’re not the only people looking for work-from-home equipment right now. If we don’t act quickly, we expect to face supply chain constraints—turns out laptops are the new toilet paper.
Mutuality

- Partnerships are more appealing than gifts
- Create as many reasons to say “yes” and as many budgets to pull from as possible.
Hi Amanda,

I hope you and your family are safe & healthy with everything going on. I’m reaching out because a partnership opportunity came up during our morning leadership meeting and I wanted to share with you.

It’s impossible to know all the ways the public health emergency will impact our small businesses – but we do know that one of the few ways to reduce that impact is by assisting them with paycheck protection loan applications.

Since 2015, the Acme Corporate Foundation’s programmatic investments with SmallBizLand have helped 1,000 entrepreneurs compete in the market. We are phenomenally grateful for your support. Now, we need Acme’s help with the operational investments it will take to begin remote program services. Our small business consultants need laptops and headsets to start taking calls remotely.

We think there’s a neat opportunity here for Acme to show the community its commitment to small businesses by helping fund that. We have a vendor who can provide the equipment we need for $9,500, but need to act quickly while they’re still in stock… turns out laptops are the new toilet paper. We were thinking we could also do a joint press release promoting the resource and highlighting the part Acme played in making the resource available.

If that’s something you think Acme would be interested, I’d be happy to hop on a call or a Zoom later this week. I’m available Thursday before 3 pm or Friday after 10 am.

Thanks so much,

Stephen
Unique Concerns for Budget Modifications & Policy Exceptions
Budget modifications and policy exemptions

• What’s actually holding you back?
• Is your total budget insufficient?
  • Is your spending reducing anywhere? Transit stipends? Fees for trainers?
• Is your budget too restrictive?
• Is there a policy you would violate by purchasing a category of asset, or by making that purchase at a specific point in time?
Clear rationale: inciting incident

• “On March 17, 2020, the San Diego City Council ratified a public health emergency related to COVID-19…”
• “On March 19, 2020, the Governor of the State of California issued executive order N-33-20 requiring…”
• “On April 10, 2020, the County of San Diego issued a modified Health Officer Order requiring the closure of…”
Clear rationale: impacted activities

• “As a result, [agency] is shifting its training programs to an online format.”
• “[Agency] staff are now required to work remotely.”
• “Compliance with this order has required the cessation of in-person services for clients in [Agency’s] [program].”
Clear request

• “We propose a budget modification subtracting $1,500 (the cost of remaining training space rentals) from the special events budget category and adding the same amount to the supportive services budget category. This will allow [Agency] to purchase laptops for clients who need to attend trainings via webinar.”

• “We are requesting a temporary exemption to the accelerated spend requirements found in section 9.9.9 of the FY20 Operating Manual, so that [Agency] may purchase laptops for staff working remotely.”
On March 19, 2020, the Governor of the State of California issued executive order N-33-20 requiring Californians to remain at home whenever possible. As a result, [Agency]’s training programs will now be offered via webinar.

We propose a budget modification subtracting $1,500 (the cost of remaining training space rentals) from the special events budget category and adding the same amount to the supportive services budget category. This will allow [Agency] to purchase laptops for clients who need to attend trainings via webinar.
